NDPHS Regional Conference:
Preparing health initiatives for 2014-2020

Vilnius, Lithuania
12 November 2013

Why?

-  We need more health and social well-being in the regional cooperation agenda and, therefore...

-  The NDPHS wants to help stakeholders:
 - Be better informed about regional challenges and the political and financial realities
 - Strengthen their capacity to respond to these challenges and realities
 - Create partnerships committed to developing fundable project applications addressing these challenges, and to do so in time for the first rounds of funding calls during the 2014-2020 programming period
 - Apply for financing in a more effective and focused way thereby reducing fragmentation among planned interventions

How?

(3 morning sessions)

-  Share information about regionally agreed priorities in health and social well-being area
-  Share lessons learnt from past projects to help (i) improve cooperation and coordination in the design and implementation of future projects, as well as (ii) better coordinate project and policy development efforts
-  Share information about foreseen financial opportunities for health and social well-being projects during the 2014-2020 programming period

How?

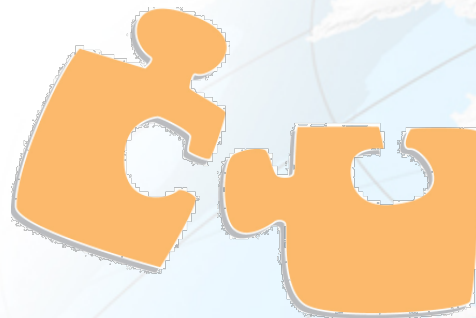

(7 afternoon roundtables)

-  Split into seven thematic roundtables
-  Identify and discuss areas of shared interest
-  Agree on concrete activities aimed towards the development and implementation of joint health and social well-being projects
-  Roundtable and conference wrap-up: each table will share key outcomes of their discussions

We have a nice surprise...
