Aim of the workshop

In 2020, our project partners held national needs assessments in Estonia, Finland, Latvia, Lithuania, Poland, Russia and Sweden to identify the five national priorities for improving active and healthy ageing. Based on the findings of the needs assessments, we drafted a joint report that identifies and summarizes the regional priority areas for future action, namely active and healthy ageing, integrated care, lifelong learning, and labor participation.

In February 2021, we held the first Policy Lab to envision future regional joint activities in the first priority area, active and healthy ageing. During the workshop, we agreed to hold another workshop to continue the co-creation process for the remaining three focus areas. The second Policy Lab is dedicated to discussing and identifying potential topics and concrete activities for future joint activities in the fields of integrated care, lifelong learning and labor participation.

More information about the AgeFLAG project and its outcomes so far is available on the project website.
